Don't Buy the "Milk"

By Doug Carter – Georgetown, OH

The silence is deafening. Not a word from ABC, CBS, NBC, or CNN about contaminated "Milk". Not even our local Fox News, which closes each story with "balanced news", has said a word. That's strange because the President went out of his way to host a dedication ceremony at the White House on May 22, 2014 venerating Milk.

The "Milk" I am talking about is the new U.S. postage stamp commemorating a man named Harvey Milk. "Who is he?" He's the infamous homosexual activist who became the first openly gay elected official in San Francisco. That was in 1977. Not only has our esteemed President hosted a 2014 "coming out" ceremony for the new Harvey Milk stamp but in 2009 he rewarded Milk's sexual immorality by posthumously bestowing the Presidential Medal of Freedom on him for his contribution to the gay rights movement. And, later that same year, then California governor Arnold Schwarzenegger designated May 22 as "Harvey Milk Day", inducting him into the California Hall of Fame.

So what's the big deal? California and Washington, D.C., they are a long way from Brown County, Ohio, right? Not so fast. Milk's tentacles of immorality have now reached into every city, town, and village. How? Through the USPS. That's right, through our very own United States Postal System. You can purchase a Milk stamp at any burg's post office. Now you can place perversion on your son's or daughter's graduation card, or your grandma or grandpa's get well card, or your mom and dad's golden anniversary card with a 49 cent Harvey Milk forever stamp.

On May 22 the USPS unveiled the forever stamp that honors Milk. This means you can esteem a LGBT (lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender) activist by buying a stamp at your local post office. What better promotion for a sinful lifestyle than direct mail to all 50 states—and get you to pay for sending it! —by placing a Milk stamp on your personal mail?

Randy Shilts, a close friend and fellow homosexual of Milk, says Harvey was more than an elected homosexual official and LGBT activist—he was a child sexual predator. According to Shilts' biography about Milk, he says the man had a gay predatory lust for young men. One of these young men, among many, was underage Jack Galen McKinley, a 16-year-old runaway from Maryland.

Matt Barber of Liberty Counsel Action, a foe of Milk, who is himself the father of a teenage boy, objected strongly to the U.S. postal stamp unveiled on May 22 that venerates Milk. "While most sexual predators," wrote Barber, "get time in prison and a dishonorable mention on the registry of sex offenders, Harvey Milk got his own California state holiday, a Presidential Medal of Freedom, and his own 'Forever' postage stamp."

I don't know about you but this deeply torments my mind, heart, and soul to think that a homosexual activist would get a stamp honoring a lifestyle that has led to an increase in AIDS, the spread of syphilis, STDs, same-sex unions, and an overall decline in America's morality. How far we have fallen since Genesis 3!

What can you do? God doesn't place the moral authority to change America in Washington's political hands. He gives it exclusively to His church that looks in humble desperation to Him. And if there were ever a time that God's people should be praying, it is now.

Further, because God has given you freedom to choose. I suggest that you place feet to your prayers and when you go to the post office to buy stamps and are offered a Harvey Milk stamp, please politely but firmly decline. Then explain why: Harvey Milk was immoral and you will not honor his offensive and inappropriate lifestyle.

Will your voice cause USPS to recall (burn) the stamps or the President to update his sin-leaning theology? I don't know. However, what I do know is that "any person who knows what is right to do but does not do it, to him it is sin (James 4:17, Amplified). Think about that as you refuse to buy and place a contaminated "Milk" stamp on your next personal mail.

[In order to be “Fair and Balanced”, it is not only the above mentioned networks who play into the homosexual agenda’s hands, but as Steve Baldwin has written in his article (below) on the media (Christian News, June 9th, 2014 edition).

“Even more surprising is the Pew Research study on how the media covers same sex marriage. It found that FOX NEWS ran four times more stories supporting same sex marriage than opposing it. Nor do most people know that FOX NEWS is a major financial sponsor of the National Lesbian and Gay Journalists Association (NLGJA), which itself monitors how FOX NEWS covers gay issues and is constantly communicating with FOX NEWS personalities to teach them “correct” way to report on homosexual issues. And no, FOX NEWS, whose slogan is “Fair and Balanced”, does not give any money to pro-traditional values groups.

Megyn Kelly is a FOX NEWS superstar but more than most FOX NEWS personalities, she really drinks the homosexual propaganda kook-aid. She supports homosexual marriage and often equates, on-air, the rights of blacks to the rights of homosexuals, despite the complete lack of evidence that homosexuality is an in-born trait like race is. She also uses the same phrases homosexual activities use in describing their battle for marriage rights: “marriage equality” and has referred to religious-based opponents of the homosexual agenda as “haters”, phrases right out of NLGJA’s play book.”]
